To start using anatomy.tv click on the title you wish to view, for example, 3D Head & Neck Anatomy:

The product you have selected will open in a new browser window.

Interface explained

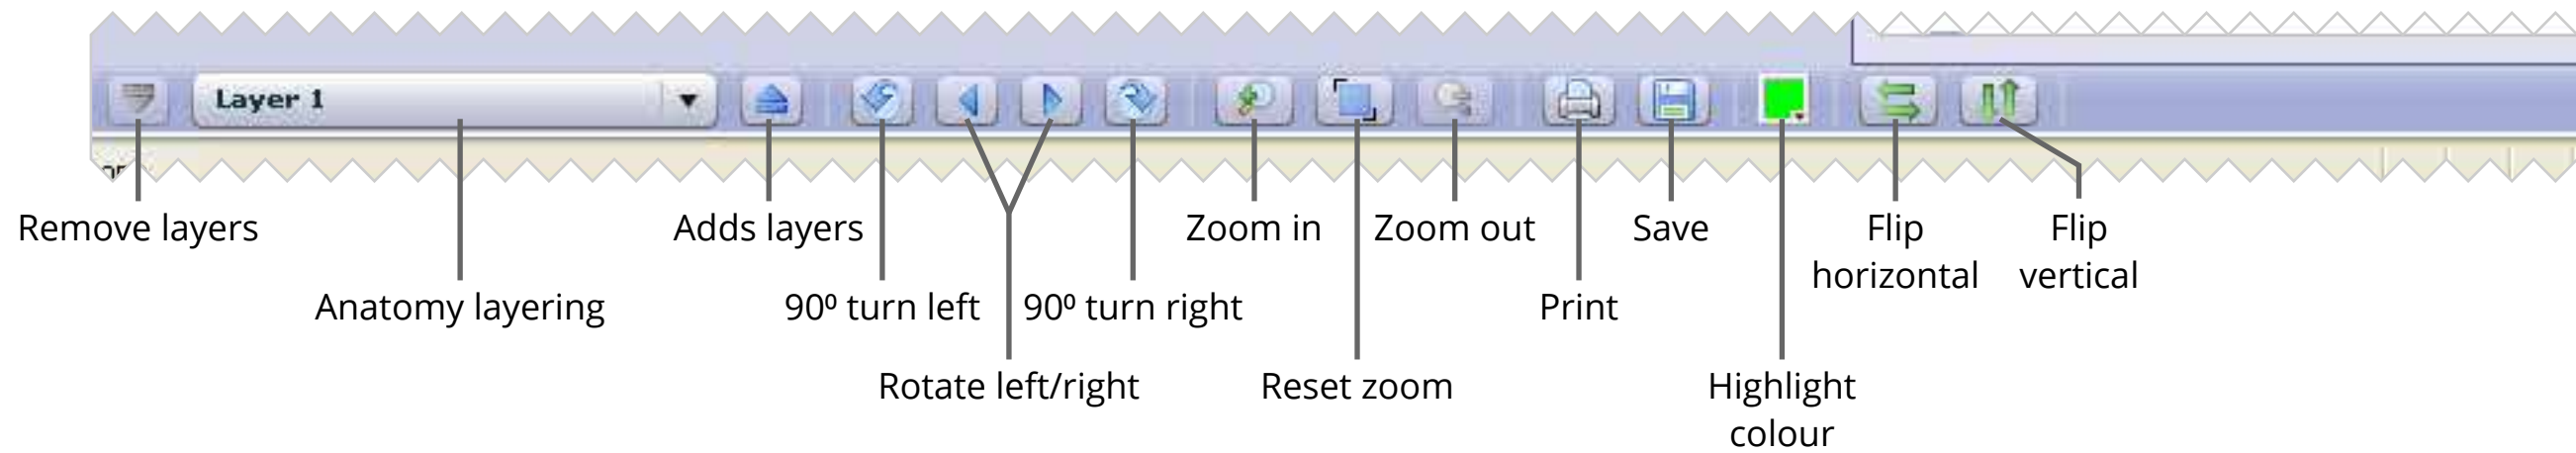

The majority of our titles contain the following components functions:

Anatomy: Contains the interactive 3D models.

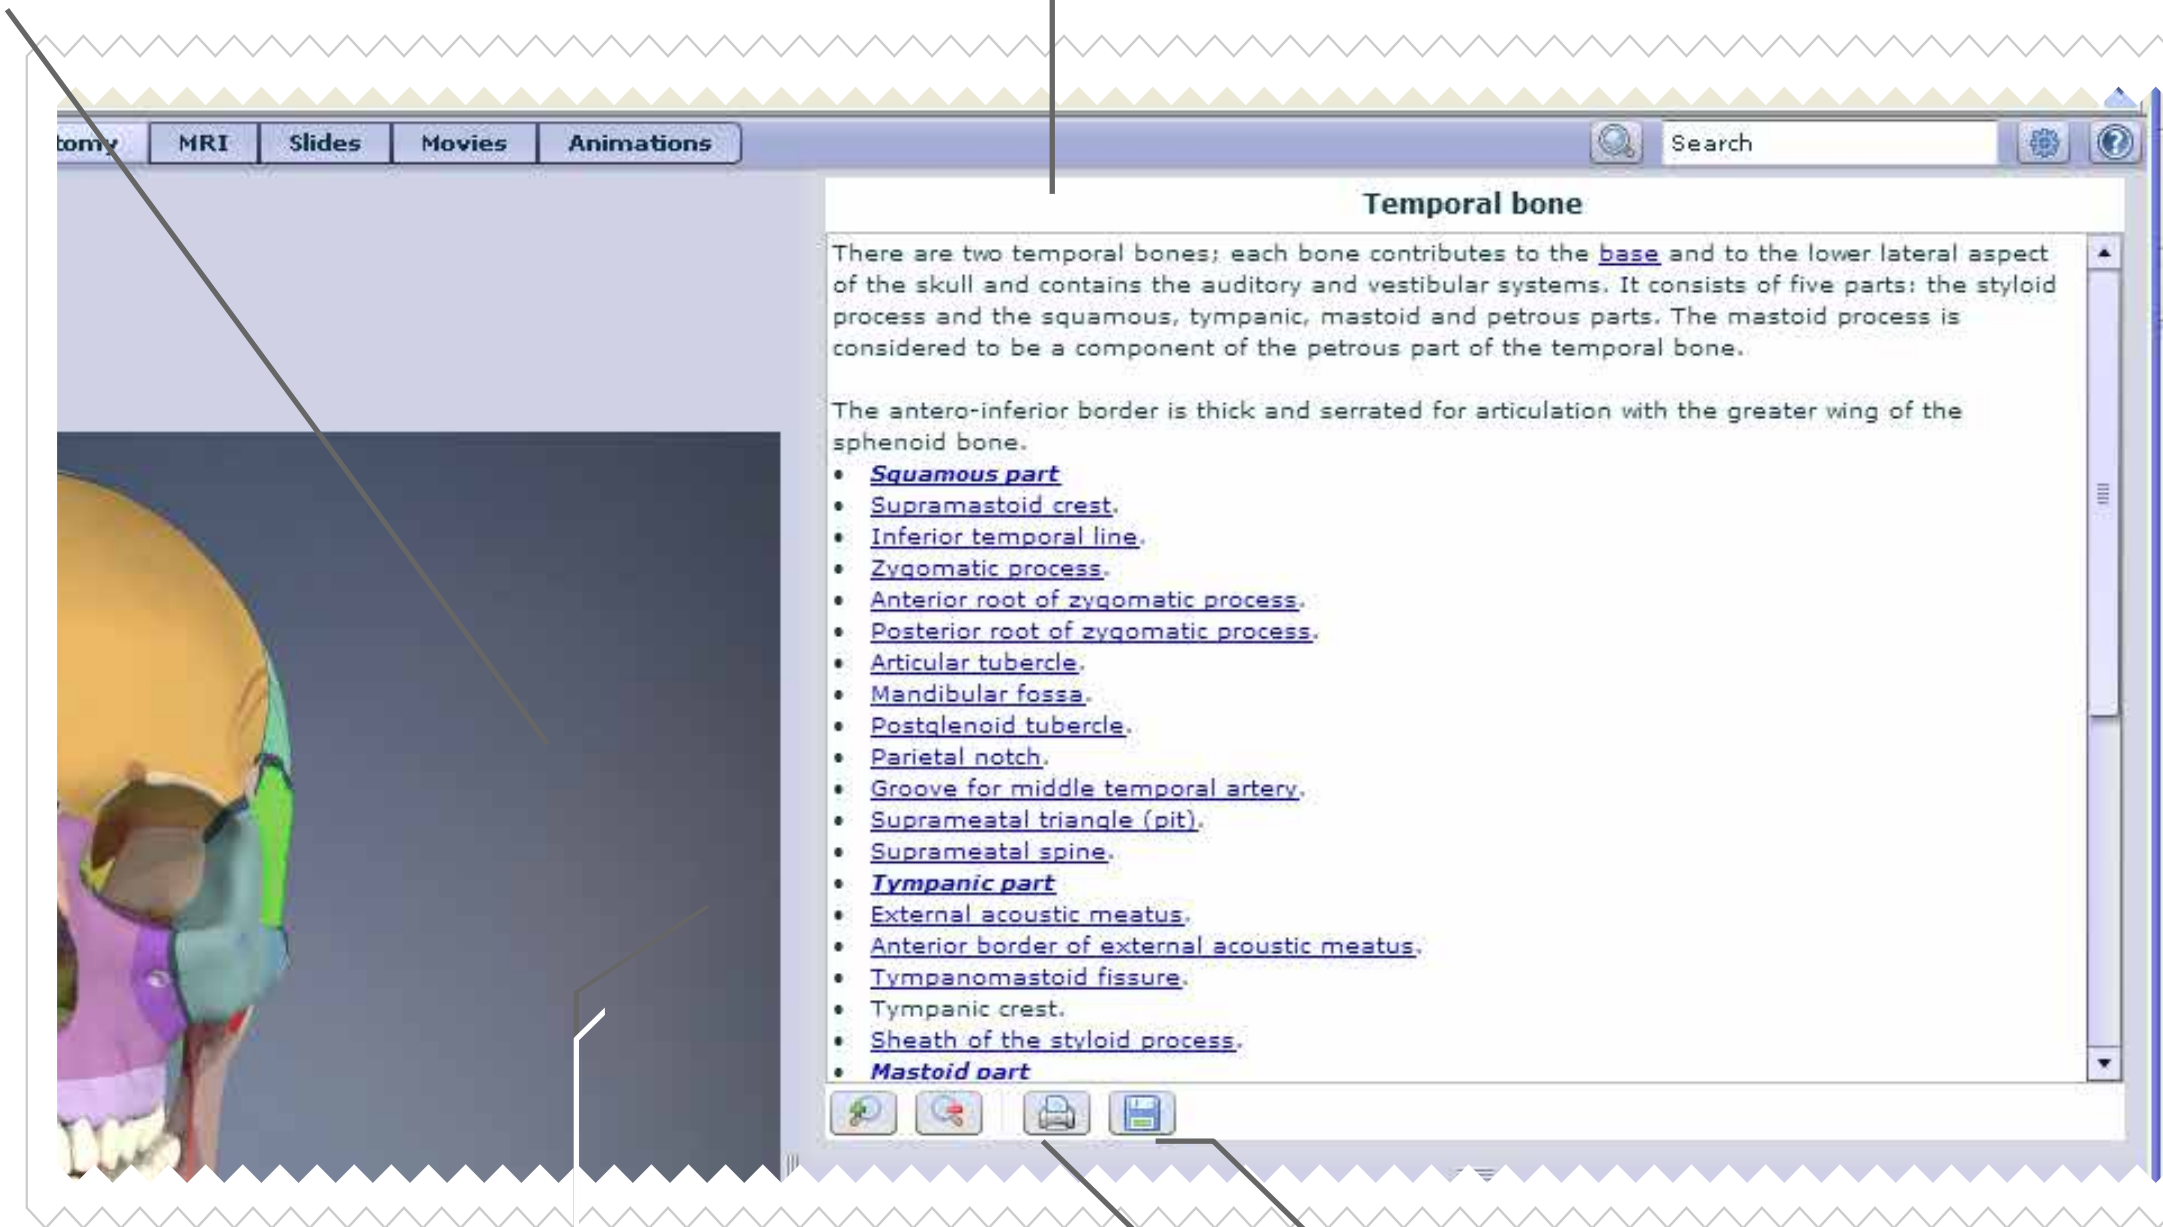

A default view will appear in the viewing pane when you first open the title.

You can select a view from the list in the bottom right pane.

If you click and highlight any structure, text will appear in the top right pane.

Links to any additional slides/video clips will appear as underlined text and can be opened by clicking on them - they will open up in a new window.

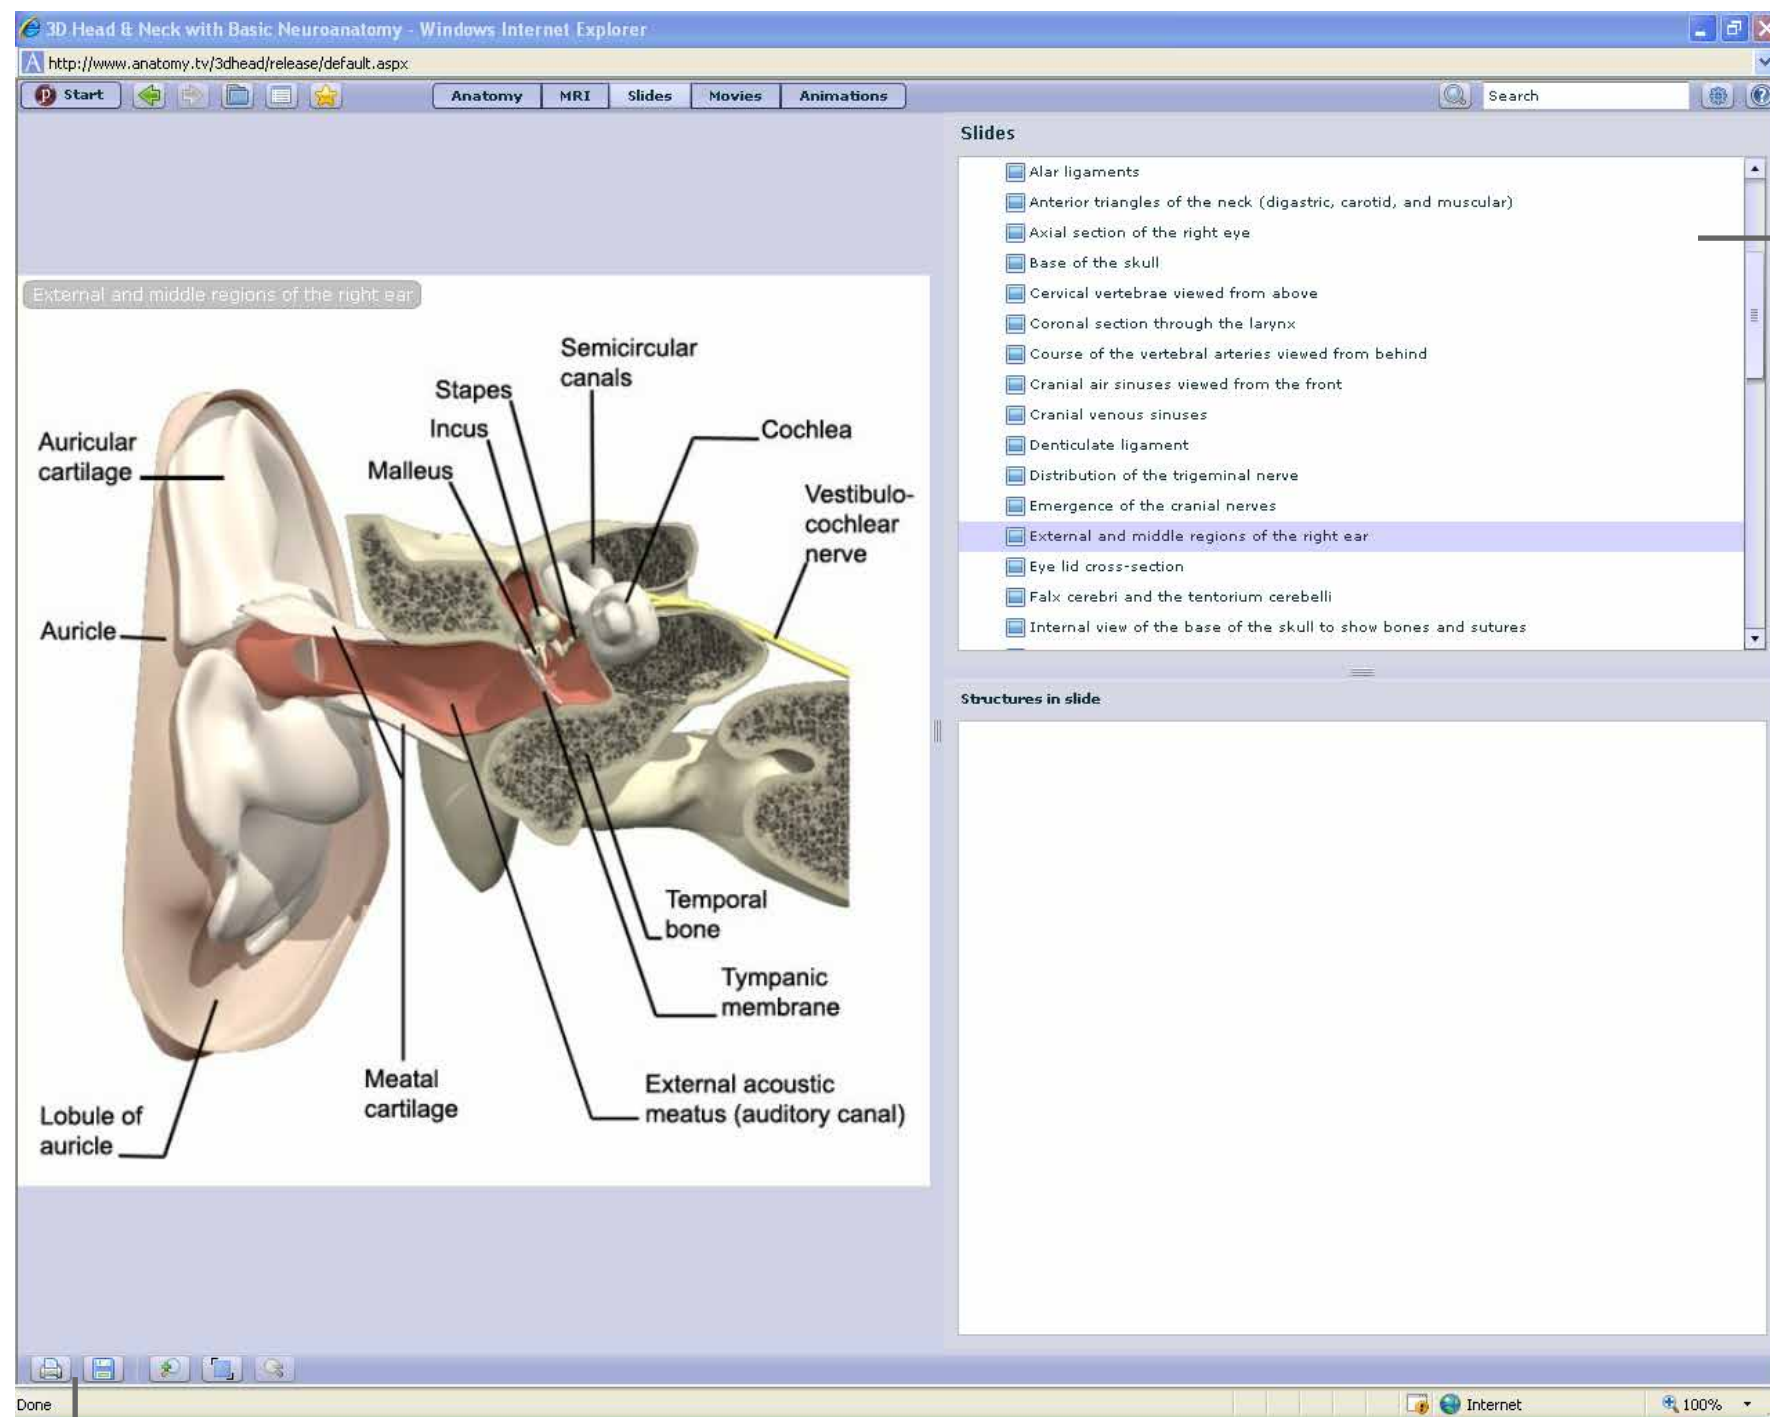

Use the print and save functions at the bottom of the screen to export any 3D image.

MRI section:

- Compare labeled cross sections of our 3D models with equivalent MRI in 3 planes.
- Choose a plane then scroll through all the available layers.
- All visible structures are labeled on the cross section plus any that are large enough to see are labeled on the MRI.

Slides:

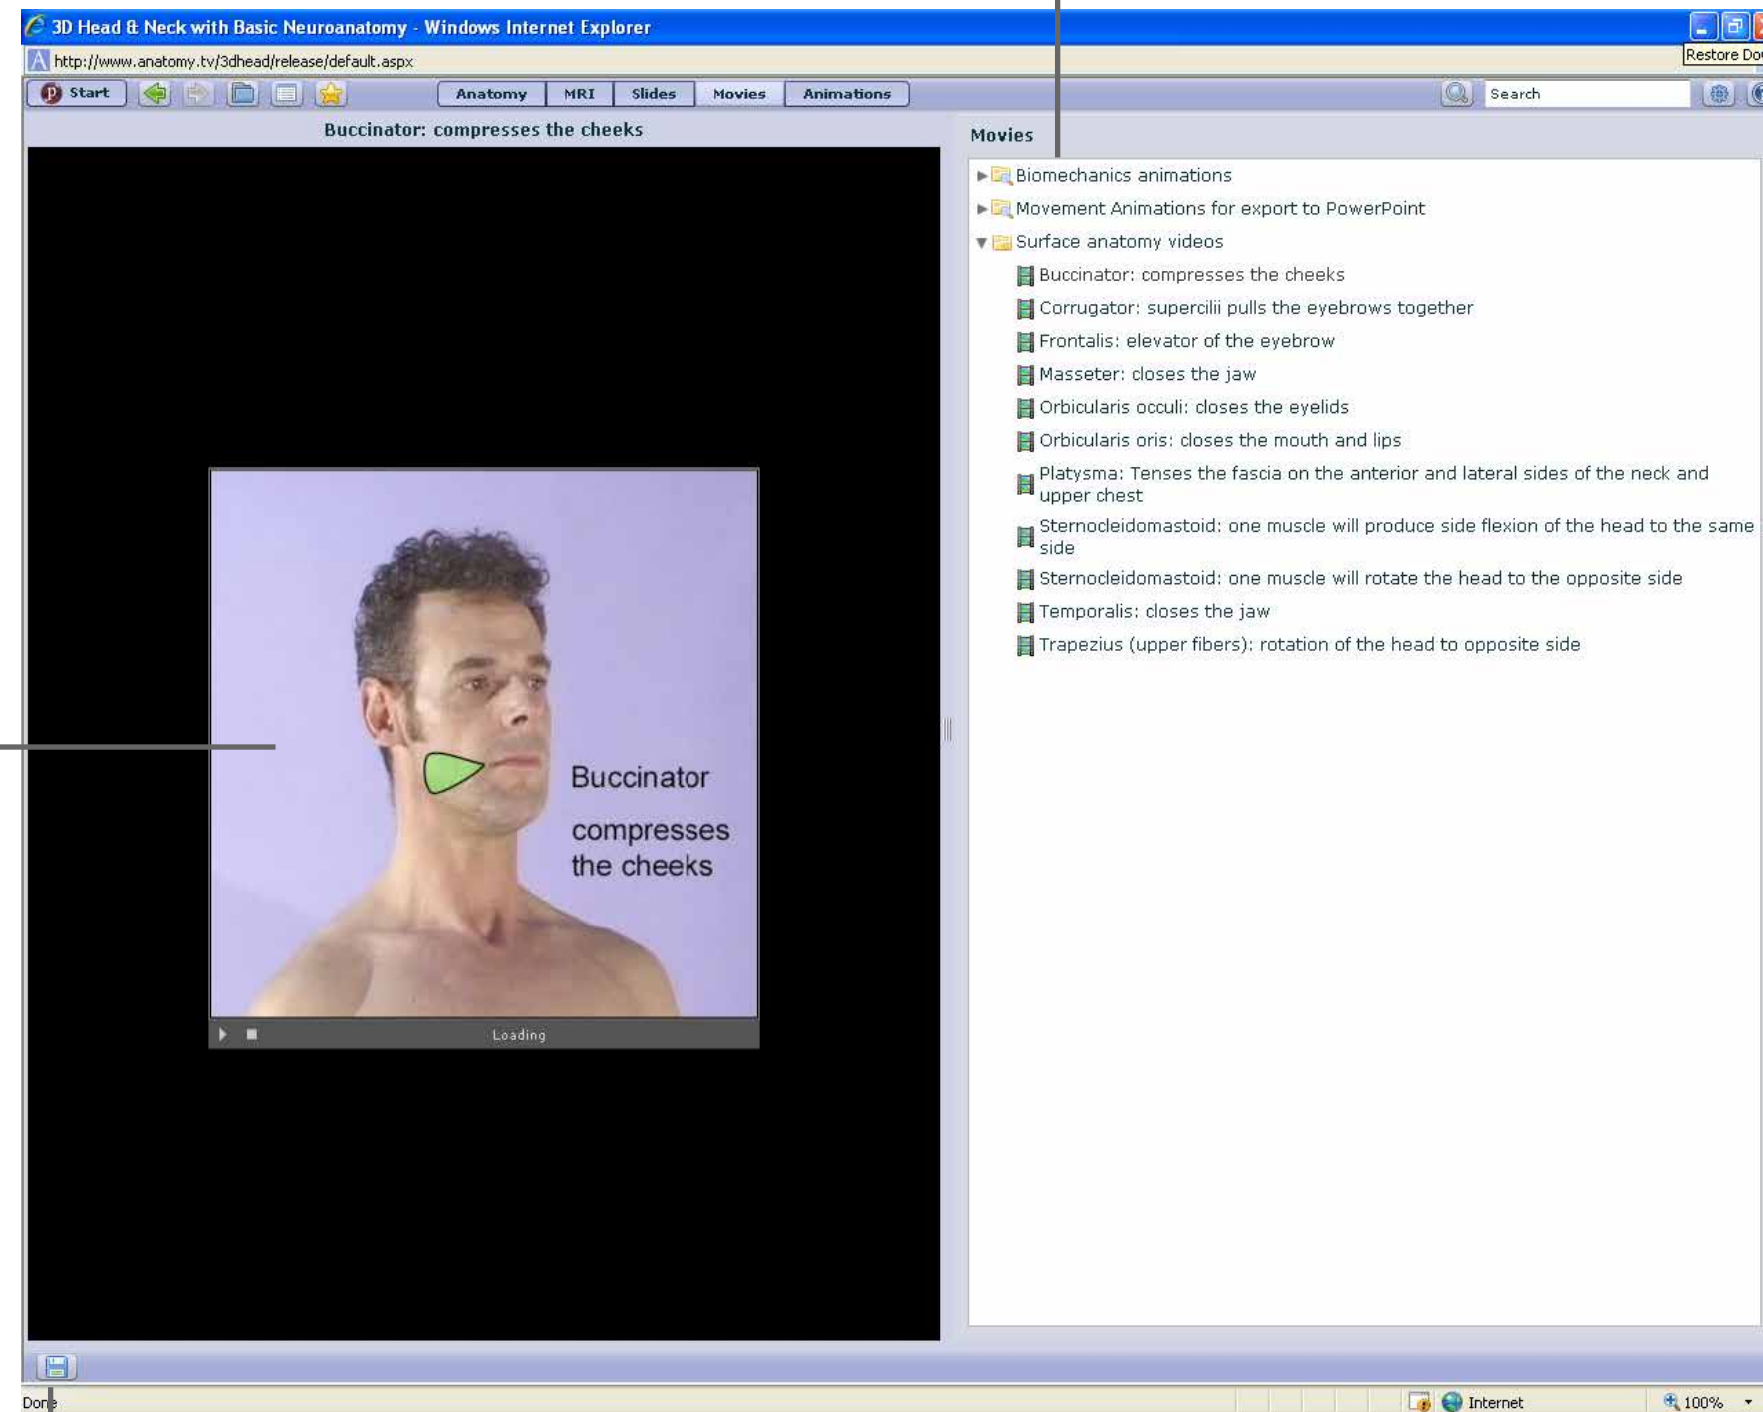

Choose a slide from the menu in the top right pane to view it in the viewing pane on the left.

Use the print and save functions at the bottom of the screen to export the image.

Movies:

Choose a movie clip from the menu in the top right pane to view it.

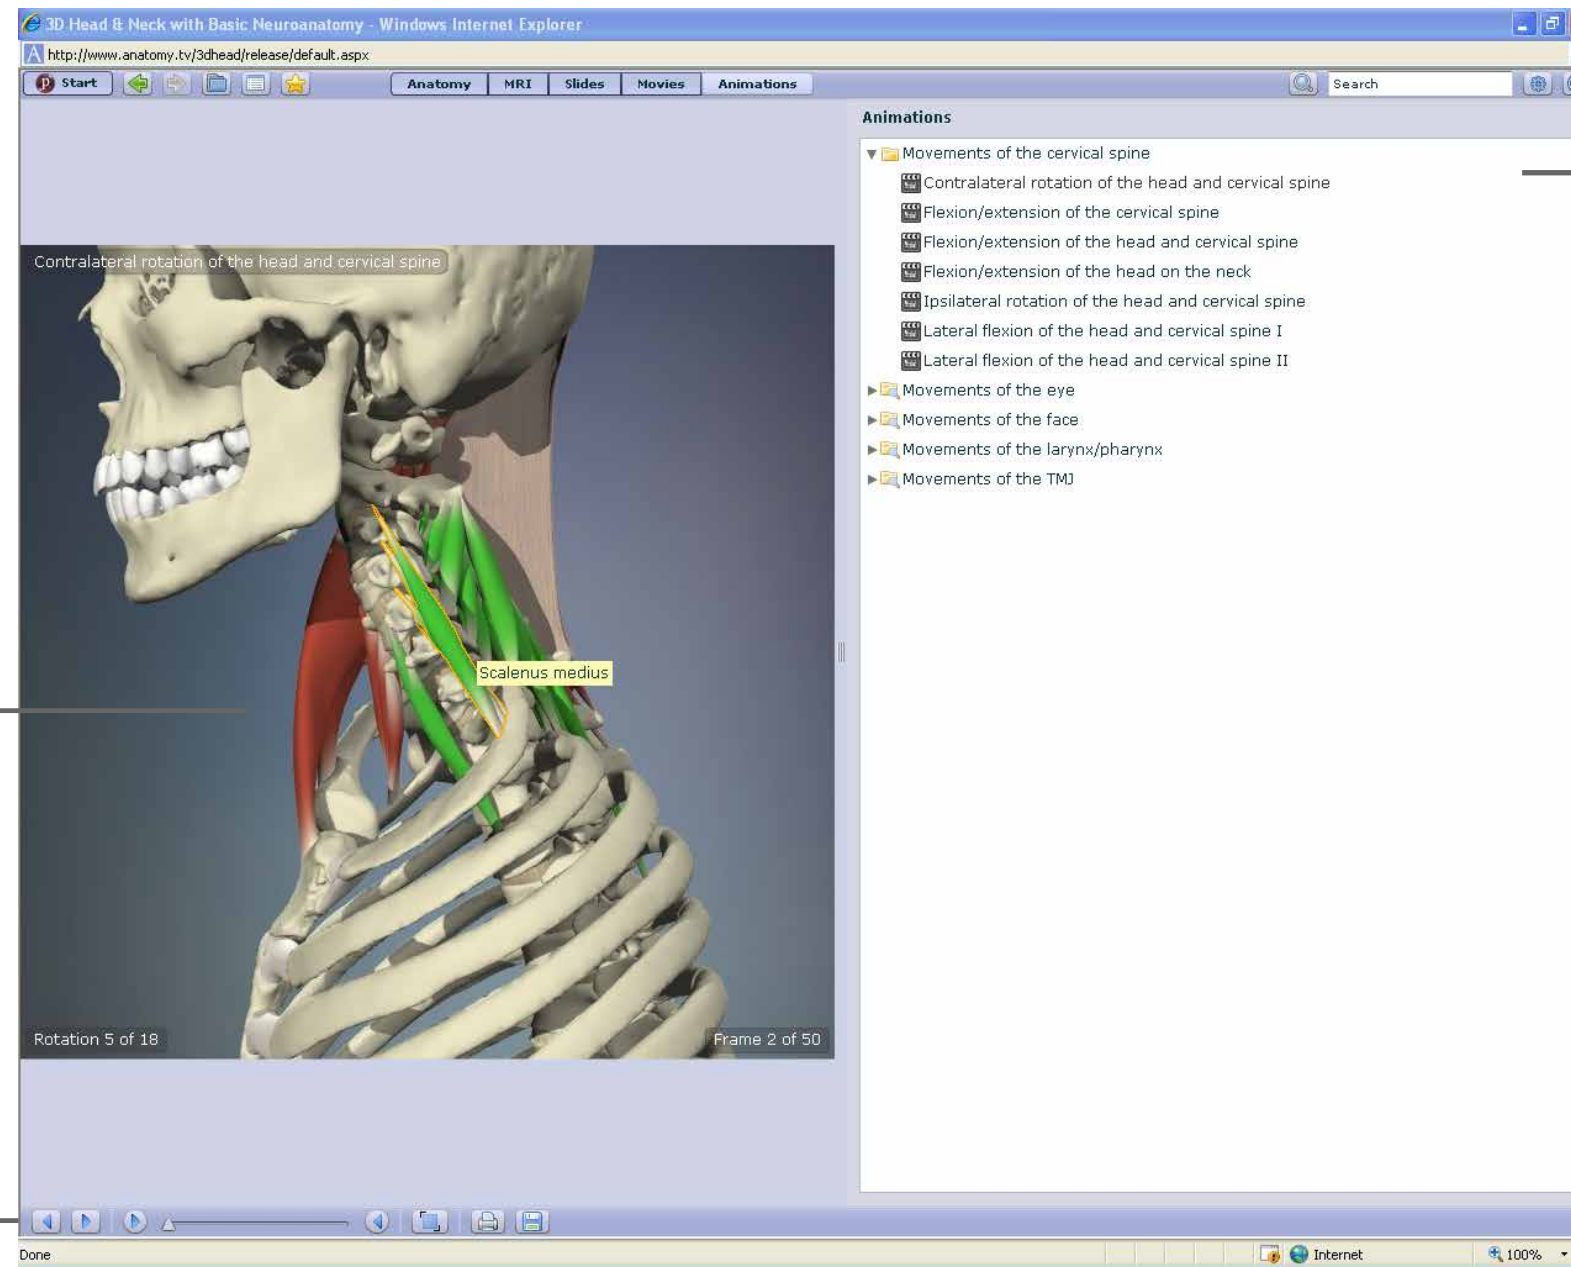

Play the movie in the viewing pane on the left.

Use the print and save functions at the bottom of the screen to export the image.

Animations:

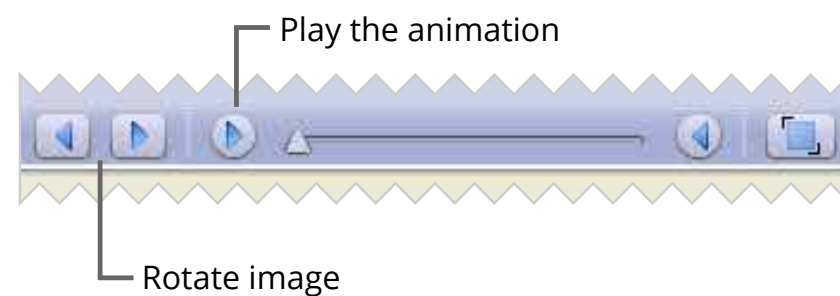

Play the movie in the viewing pane on the left.

Rotate, label and play the 3D animations.

Choose an animation from the menu in the top right pane to view it.

- To export the animations as .mpg files - go to the Movies tab and find the equivalent movement as a exportable file - open and use the Save function to export.

Printing or saving images:

1) Find the 3D image that you want to use.

2) Use the print and save icons for images and text.

3) If using save the image in a folder on your hard drive using a convenient title or reference. The image will save as a .png file that can be used in PowerPoint™ and Word™ etc.

Exporting video clips or animations from www.anatomy.tv:

- 1) Clips can only be saved.
- 2) Use the save  function to save the videos. Please note some animations have separate versions that can be exported for presentations (see Animations section of user guide)
